If you have symptoms of mpox, you should talk to a healthcare provider, even if you don’t think you had contact with someone who has mpox.